

Strategic Communicators Collective

The Strategic Communicators Collective is a learning, connection, and collaborative platform for mid-to-senior-level public relations, marketing and fundraising leaders like you who want to be indispensable strategists for their clients or companies.

Through a mix of training, mentoring, brain trust and vocal empowerment experiences, communications leaders develop an unshakeable sense of confidence and self-trust in their expertise and value so they can become the bold, confident strategists we're all meant to be!

The public relations, marketing and development members currently in the group value the connections they've made with one another and the opportunity to share their successes, challenges, and big ideas in a supportive space.

Here's what you can expect:

- Our Brain Trust Advisory so you can go deep and get support with the challenges you face
- Deep-dive professional development sessions on strategic communications planning
- Vocal empowerment experiences (through my work as a certified Step into Your Moxie® facilitator) using role-play and improv to help you enhance executive presence and move people to take action on the issues and ideas important to you
- Live Q&A "Ask Me Anything" sessions to address (or celebrate!) real-world issues
- On-demand learning content you can access at your own pace
- Expert speakers on a range of topics

REGISTRATION NOW OPEN
THROUGH SEPT. 22!

The Strategic Communicators Collective opens once per year.

The price is $997/year.
Monthly payments available!

Imagine having a confidential space to engage and collaborate with like-minded peers, get support on your dreams, doubts, and big ideas, gain greater confidence, and hone the strategic communications skills you need to advance your career or earn additional revenue for your business!

CLICK HERE TO BOOK A CALL TO FIND OUT
IF THE COLLECTIVE IS RIGHT FOR YOU!